MODIFICATIONS TO AND/OR TAMPERING WITH THE SUPPLEMENTAL SIDE AIR BAG SYSTEM AND/OR THE AIR BAG OCCUPANT CLASSIFICATION SENSOR

This bulletin has been amended. The Applied Vehicles and Service Information have been updated.

APPLIED VEHICLES: 1997 to current production

SERVICE INFORMATION

Modifications to and/or tampering of any kind with Supplemental Side Air Bags and/or Infiniti Advanced Air Bag System could affect the deployment or performance of the air bag system and could result in serious personal injury.

Modifications and/or tampering include changes to the front seat assembly such as:

- Adding or changing trim materials from the factory equipped condition (i.e., replacing the seat trim with non-factory materials; adding leather/cloth seat covers, seat pads, or seat storage pouches, etc.) around or over the side air bag system and/or on the passenger seat cushion.

The components of the above air bag systems include:

- Vehicles equipped with Supplemental Side Air Bags have side air bag modules in the front seat backs (driver and passenger side).
- Vehicles equipped with Infiniti Advanced Air Bag System have an occupant classification sensor in the front passenger seat cushion.

NOTE: Refer to the Monroney Label, applicable Owner's Manual, or the GI section of the Service Manual to determine if a vehicle has Supplemental Side Air Bags and/or Infiniti Advanced Air Bag System.

Damage or failure due to modifications to and/or tampering with the air bag system are not covered under the warranty.

Damage or injury resulting from modifications affecting airbag performance are not subject to indemnification under the Infiniti Dealer Sales and Service Agreement.

Dealers should refer customers to their vehicle Owner's Manual for more information about Supplemental Side Air Bag System and Infiniti Advanced Air Bag System.
